Scope

This guide covers literature pertaining to African American and African Studies. The first part of the guide is dedicated to research literature in the field of African American Studies (AAS). The second section of the guide lists materials related to Africa and the Diaspora.

Table of Contents

1. General Sources- African American Studies (AAS)
2. Subject Sources- Humanities (AAS)
3. Subject Sources- Social Sciences (AAS)
4. General Sources- African/Diaspora Studies

In each section, research sources are further classified by type. The different types of resources include:

Handbooks and Almanacs
Encyclopedias/Dictionaries/Chronologies
Bio-bibliographies

Indexes/Abstracts/Bibliographies
Websites
Electronic Resources/E-Journals

For each resource, the call number or location information is provided. One should also remember that call numbers provide the user with the classification ranges where similar resources are located. This will help scholars and students who wish to browse the library for related research materials.
